FOREWORD

In the Second World War an air force was its aircraft along with the men who flew and maintained them. These men and their flying machines delivered the destructive power against the enemy, they became the key factor in operations insofar as high command planned on the basis of the number of crews, fighters, and bombers operationally available.

The aircraft and the combat crews also became the counting pieces for the air war historian, the key to unlocking doors to a detailed study of a particular mission or unit's operational record. A first move in such a study is to establish individual aircraft identities, a task fraught with difficulty because many of those best able to match aircraft serial numbers with markings and nicknames--the aircrew and the groundcrew--committed many of these details not to paper but to memory. They had a war to fight and the time they had to contribute to The Mighty Eighth's history was restricted by duty or cut short altogether by combat. Despite this, some did record these details and for that we are appreciative. Yet a number of others have left this world without taking the opportunity to record, for the benefit of future generations, their thoughts, memories, and deeds.

For the boys of my generation the individuality that numbers, letters and nicknames bestowed on aircraft was a fascination. The aircraft of a particular model might be from the same production line but the paintwork conferred something that I can only describe as an inanimate personality. Many wondrous hours were spent recording the markings sported by 8th Air Force aircraft seen both flying and on the ground. We youngsters saw B-17s and B-24s along with the P-38s, P-47s, and P-51s in quite a different light to those men who worked on the ground as well as those who flew and fought in them. We youngsters did not really get a chance to know that many Americans very well before they failed to return from combat, were involved in a non-operational incident, or returned home having completed their tour of duty.

Paul Andrews and William Adams are of even a younger generation and have proven their fascination for the subject and their passion for detail with the publication in 1995 of Heavy Bombers and Fighter Losses. Perhaps they have an advantage in the task they have set for themselves--and executed so well--in that they bring a certain mind set to the subject unhampered by the visual impact that tends to cloud the judgment of those who witnessed history as it unfolded. With the publication of Combat Chronology, its Supplement and the Roll of Honor, Andrews and Adams have once again shared their understanding of the subject and their resourcefulness. These three volumes represent a prodigious undertaking which only the dedicated enthusiast might attempt for it requires thousands of hours of effort, even with the aid of modern computer magic. And as any researcher knows, any effort to answer a question more often than not generates other questions.

Leafing through the pages of these volumes underscores what we already know intuitively; that is, the air war required an enormous contribution in men and machines. The Combat Chronology steps us through day by day, providing details of those aircraft involved in combat and other incidents such as training sorties, while the Supplement details what is known to have happened to each crew member whose aircraft is detailed in the Chronology. The Roll of Honor is equally telling but for different reasons. As with the Supplement we learn what we intuitively already know -- The Mighty Eighth brought together young men from the big cities and small towns across the United States, to include Alaska and Hawaii. What may be surprising to some are those individuals who came from Canada, Latin America, South America, and even the United Kingdom. We also see those who came from the same home town and wonder if they knew each other. We also see those share the same last name, who were assigned to different groups -- one died and the other was taken in prisoner. We wonder, "Did they know each other? May be they were brothers, may be they were cousins, or may be they were complete strangers to each other." What we do know is that they were assigned to the largest air force in history -- The Mighty Eighth.

The result of Paul Andrews and William Adams' labours is truly an invaluable source of information on the heavy bombers and fighters of The Mighty Eighth. Through their efforts they have demonstrated that for each person and incident cited there is history to be written. There are memories to be recorded on tape or written down so that other generations may have a better sense of what took place in the skies over occupied Europe during the Second World War.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

As a measure of success in collecting historical data on the personnel and aircraft of The Mighty Eighth, this volume represents not only our research efforts, but also the collective support of a number of research centers with their staffs, bomb group associations with their archivists and historians, as well as a small army of contributors. Hardly a week passes without receiving additional "bits and pieces" that either confirms existing data or adds to the data base. With due respect to everyone's contributions, the following individuals are singled out for their long time support coupled with the invaluable sharing of their expertise and research: Thomas E. Bass, John R. Beitling, Cliff T. Bishop, Joseph A. Brown, Mark S. Copeland, Richard Drain, Robert D. Elliot, Wallace R. Foreman, Roger A. Freeman, C. Craig Harris, Ian L. Hawkins, Edward J. Huntzinger, and Larry Wilson. Finally, without the generous and enthusiastic support of the Eighth Air Force Memorial Museum Foundation, this research effort would have remained little more than a personal avocation confined to a small mountain of research notes loosely organized into filing cabinets and desk drawers. While efforts have been taken to acknowledge everyone's support and assistance to Project Bits and Pieces, apologies are extended in advance to those whose names may have been inadvertently omitted.

PROJECT BITS AND PIECES

Scope

The Eighth Air Force Memorial Museum Foundation's Project Bits and Pieces is the concerted effort to collect, compile, and disseminate information on The Mighty Eighth's history. The primary and secondary sources available present the researcher with a unique problem - having too much information. There is a wealth of data that can be extracted from the thousands of cubic feet of primary sources - official documents, photographs, and personal accounts - stored at a number of research centers. Additionally, there are hundreds of secondary sources - books and periodical articles. The overwhelming and at times frustrating task of locating the information and compiling it presents an enormous task for the researcher, aviation enthusiast, and veteran alike. With the 1995 publication of Heavy Bombers of the Mighty Eighth and Fighter Losses of the Mighty Eighth coupled with the recent release of the Combat Chronology, its Supplement, and the Roll of Honor, the Foundation has endeavored to facilitate the research efforts of those interested in The Mighty Eighth's history.

Research Methodology

The primary and secondary sources incorporated into Project Bits and Pieces are 1) historical documents, 2) photographs, 3) personal accounts, and 4) published research.

Historical Documents

Each aircraft accepted into the Army Air Force inventory received a serial number and it is with this number that an aircraft's history was recorded in official records generated from the squadron up through to the air force level. If persistent and patient enough it is conceivable to negotiate through all of the associated challenges and frustrations to reconstruct an aircraft's history. Yet, despite the potential for success, the process is tedious. Often the exhilaration of unearthing small caches of information is tempered by having a promising line of investigation turn into a proverbial dead end.

Records created during the air war satisfied command requirements for information. Save for those compiling the information who also had a sense of history, these records were neither necessarily designed nor intended to address fully historical questions fifty years after the fact. Changing command requirements coupled with time limitations imposed on a unit's staff to accomplish the myriad of administrative tasks and compile statistical data for each sortie ensured that the surviving documentation available to the researcher varies in quality and consistency not only from group to group but also along the air war's entire time line.

At a time well before "liquid paper" or the "word processor," typographical errors where names were misspelled and serial numbers transposed could not be avoided or easily corrected. Nor for that matter would the air war come to a crashing halt if an individual's name was misspelled or a serial number was misreported as 231899 instead of 231989. The following examples provide the reader with a sense of the problems and frustrations inherent in any historical endeavor.

It is known that the 95BG's B-17G identified only as 8660 flew its first sortie on 22 October 1944 and failed to return from an operation on 20 January 1945. The Missing Air Crew Report Number (MACR) 11755 indicates the full serial number is 48660. It has been brought to our attention that 48660 flew with the 390BG and the correct serial number for the 95BG bomber should be 338660. After reviewing the available records it is clear that 48660 could not be the 95BG aircraft in question because it was not accepted into the Army Air Force inventory until 18 November 1944, nearly a full month after 8660 flew its first sortie.

MACR 9532 states the 95BG pilot for B-17 231410 on 6 October 1944 was Lester A. Lenox Jr. Official records or not, Lester A. Lennox provided the correct spelling.

MACR 3545 indicates the 303BG Ball Turret Gunner on 23 March 1944 was Ollie C. Crenshaw while the MACR 4260 issued on 24 April 1944 lists the same individual as Ollie G. Crenshaw.

The American Battle Monuments Commission's compilation of those buried at the Ardennes American Cemetery carries the 95BG's Henry M. Quirk; while MACR 196 indicates the individual's name to be Henry S. Quirk.

Knowing that a unit's mission report was at times over one hundred pages in length, one can then appreciate the effort associated with preparing such reports in a timely manner. Furthermore, one must appreciate the pressures associated with the preparation of twenty mission reports over a ten week period, as it was early in the war, and generating the same number in less than a month. As such, errors like the misidentification of 8660 and the misspellings of names such as that of Lester Lennox are bound to happen, but nevertheless such errors will invariably frustrate the researcher and veteran alike.

As the requirement for operational information increased, units out of necessity altered the format in which the information was reported. For example, after each mission Fuel and Oil Consumption reports provided Command with the necessary information to anticipate its demand for petroleum products. When the 8AF was reorganized in September 1943 into three Air Divisions, each Air Division generated these reports. Some groups like the 100BG, for a brief period, provided the aircraft serial number, pilot's last name, position in the formation, squadron assigned, and the individual aircraft letter code. For other units, however, such details were not provided.

To further underscore this point about the documentation's consistency, during the initial research phase of this project a document series--Monthly Group Inventory--was located for the 1st Air Division. Submitted by each group, these reports provided the serial numbers of the aircraft assigned, on-hand, and on detached service as of 2000 hours on the 6th day of the month. In the beginning these records were very detailed. Yet, like the Fuel and Oil Consumption reports, operational demands forced this format to be revised where only the serial number would be provided. Along a similar line of investigation another document was found that detailed the temporary duty status of each aircraft of the 1st Air Division. With this document and the Monthly Inventory, it was possible not only to identify nearly each B-17 assigned to the 1st Air Division, but far more importantly track its operational history on a day-to-day basis. This is the exhilarating part. The teaser remains in locating similar records for the 2nd and 3rd Air Divisions. To date these documents remain elusive.

Completeness and consistency of the records aside, there are still concerns regarding the accuracy of the information presented in these official records. One example illustrates some of the problems. A 95BG B-17F 23110 was credited with flying three sorties and having been assigned to three of the group's squadrons. It seems doubtful that between 17 and 21 May 1943 this B-17 would have been formally reassigned so many times, but that is exactly what the documentation indicates. A more plausible answer is that in filling out the mission report, the squadron assignment of the crew and not that of the aircraft was recorded. This line of reasoning also seems to apply to the squadron information provided on the MACR. Often enough the crew and the aircraft were assigned to the same squadron, however there were occasions when this was not the case to warrant the researcher's cautious approach about drawing any firm conclusion about an aircraft's squadron assignment. Nevertheless, the dilemma facing the researcher is often fraught with efforts to second guess the individual who prepared the documents over 50 years ago.

Photographs

The National Air and Space Museum Library currently holds the USAF's World War II photograph collection. This collection along with the photographs held by the USAF Museum and other research centers provide a unique source of information. There are however certain limitations. One area involves the variation of an aircraft's name. For example there are photographs of the 388BG's 230213, which shows the name to be spelt two ways--"Li'l One" and "Lil One"--underscoring the point that there are a variety of spellings even for the same aircraft. As a further example, the 401BG's 231662 is photographed with Fanncy Nanncy IV and Fancy Nancy

IV painted on the aircraft's nose area. Another issue affecting the researcher's endeavors involves the misidentification of photographs. One example found in the USAF World War II photograph collection is photograph B59230AC which is identified as being assigned to the 398BG. Yet, after a careful investigation, it becomes clear that the photograph is of the 95BG 2102937 Ready Freddie. In another example, on page 9 of Roger Freeman's The Mighty Eighth War Manual is a photograph of the 457BG's mission board. Under the 750BS, there is an unmistakable entry for 237551, R/T letter "P." At face value, the information on the mission board should be correct, yet 237551 is not a valid serial number for a B-17. After some additional research it has been determined that the serial number is most likely 231551. A diligent effort has been made to ensure the information presented in this volume is as accurate as is humanly possible.

Personal Accounts

Information recorded at the time of the event or recalled years later by an individual who either flew or worked on the aircraft is another rich source. The Acknowledgment section reveals hundreds of individuals who provided specific information about their aircraft that either confirms or challenges the historical data contained in official records as well as provides information that has not been discerned from exhaustive research efforts.

Published Research

As evident in the Heavy Bombers of the Mighty Eighth's Bibliography and Kenneth P. Werrel's Eighth Air Force Bibliography published by the Foundation in 1996, information available on the 8AF is extensive. Every effort has been made to incorporate secondary sources and the research efforts of a small army of enthusiasts. As noted in the section on historical documents, these published sources are no less vulnerable to typographical errors or incorrect information. For example, on the 10 October 1943 mission to Munster, it was often reported that Rosie's Riveters flown by Robert Rosenthal was one of only two 100BG B-17s to return from that day's mission. After careful research, it has been determined that the B-17 Rosenthal flew was 26087 Royal Flush. Every effort has been taken to ensure such errors are not knowingly repeated. For those instances where sources offer differing if not conflicting data that cannot be resolved, all information is presented with the intention that someone may be able to resolve the issue.

Serial Number

The aircraft serial number, for example 42-5864, is composed of two components. The "42" indicates that in 1942 a contract was signed with a company to build an aircraft and the "5864" is the air frame's unique serial number. This number appears on a variety of official documents. Also a simplified number was applied onto the aircraft's vertical stabilizer. In this case, "42-5864" became "25864." Some documentation, cite only the aircraft's last three or four digits.

Missing Air Crew Report (MACR) Number

CALL FOR INFORMATION

The historical process never stagnates; it is subject to an ongoing search for new sources of information as well as a continual reexamination and revalidation of existing sources. Project Bits and Pieces is no different. Despite the wealth of information available and the thousands of man-hours spent compiling the data and resolving conflicting information, there remains a number of missing "bits and pieces."

A very good example of the interactive value of this Project happened at the 1995 St. Louis Reunion of the Eighth Air Force Historical Society. While reviewing the draft of Heavy Bombers of the Mighty Eighth a veteran, when asked if assistance could be provided, noted that he could not find his aircraft. His plane's name was Ramp Happy Pappy and when asked he thought the last three digits of the serial number were 227. The Aircraft Name Index did not list such a name, thus an addition was needed to be made. Under his group listing - the 493rd - there was a 338227 and the date of salvage corresponded to the date his aircraft was seriously damaged by German fighter activity. More recently at the 1997 reunion held in Bloomington, Minnesota, a number of crew members and enthusiasts approached us with corrections to the information presented in the draft of Combat Chronology, its Supplement and the Roll of Honor. Some corrected the spelling of an individual's name and others provided additional data on those involved in a ditching or a crash landing. Such efforts as these underscore the keystone of this Project - the search for information in a continual effort to fill in as many remaining "bits and pieces" and resolve as many pieces of conflicting information as is humanly possible.

There are several areas where assistance is required.

1. Official documentation on B-17s and B-24s were assigned to the various units under the 2nd and 3rd Air Division 's units and the transfer of aircraft between these units. Also required is similar information on 8th Air Force fighter units.

2. Unit movements of the B-17Es, especially when they were assigned to non-combat roles as well as those that served in training functions in the United States.

3. Another area that requires further investigation is distinguishing between when an incident took place and its official declaration that it was beyond repair.

4. Information on air and ground crew members involved in such events as crash landings where individuals were killed, injured, or escaped injury.

5. Information involving the loss of aircraft and crew members in stateside incidents.

Accordingly, there is an ongoing call for information. Any one having additional information or corrections to what is presented in this volume or the Foundation's other publications are encouraged to submit their information and comments to:
